

Lidia DE ALMEIDA VOUMARD

As founding member and past President of the Angolan College of Dermatology and Venereology (CADV), I am now promoting the adhesion of my colleagues to the Angolan Society of Dermatology and Venereology, to expand continuous learning and experience exchanges between our dermatologists and those from our African Region and other continents.

As retired head of the Department of Dermatology of the Luanda Agostinho Neto University, and former Chief of the Dermatology Service of the Américo Boavida Hospital, I dedicate myself to encourage projects to improve essential skin care in rural areas of our country, fostering team spirit and investigations.
