

Leticia OBANDO

I'm Leticia Obando, MD

Dermatologist, Graduated in May 2000 from INDERMA, Institute of Dermatology and Dermatological Surgery, Francisco Marroquin University, Guatemala City.

I have dedicated myself to private practice.

I have actively participated with the society of my country, Honduras: Sociedad Hondureña de Dermatología y Cirugía Dermatológica, I was president in the period from 2021 to March 2023.

I am an active member of the American Academy of Dermatology, international fellow since 2006.

As part of my continuing medical education, I have participated in dermatology conferences from the AAD, HARVARD MEDICAL SCHOOL (Laser and Aesthetic Skin Therapy), World Congress of Dermatology.

Other disciplines in which I trained: INCAE, with the woman Lead program, Marketing, Leadership, Strategic Planning, Assertiveness and alignment. Complete the marketing master's degree-ADEN School.

I consider continuous learning important, in different areas of life, which helps us with professional and personal growth, which helps us better understand the environment, see and take advantage of opportunities for improvement and continuous growth.