

Julio Cesar SALAS-ALANIS

Affiliation. President of Dystrophic Epidermolysis Bullous Research Association MEXICO AC.

Dermatologist from Mexico, researcher since 1995, member of the Local and National Dermatology Societies. Member of the American Academy of Dermatology, and International Dermatology Society.

Founder of Dystrophic Epidermolysis Bullosa Research Association Mexico (1995) DEBRA MEXICO AC.

More than 200 hundred papers, 80 on pubmed: Science Translational Medicine, Oncotarget, Nature Communications, American Journal of Dermatology, Journal of Investigative in Dermatology, American Human Genetics, PLOS, PNAS, and some others. Local and National awards on the Research field as the National Prize for his volunteer job as Founder and President of DEBRA MEXICO.

Community leadership skinpact Galderma award 2016 for the Association DEBRA MEXICO.

International Collaborations with different Universities in USA: Columbia, Angela Christiano (Genotrichosis, Epidermolysis Bullosa, Trichotiodystrophy), Thomas Jefferson, Jouni Uitto, Andy South, (Epidermolysis Bullosa, microbiota, squamous cell carcinoma, Desmoglein 2), Stanford, Peter Marinkovici (Epidermolysis Bullosa), Yale, Keith Choate (Hypohidrotic Ectodermal Dysplasias) and London, John McGrath (Genodermatosis).

Dr. Salas-Alanis is well known dermatologist in Mexico, Latino America and some countries around the world for his enthusiasm , energy and easy way to see the social problems. His emphaty to the others has been his success on his life.